TUESDAY, APRIL 20.

The town of Stry, in Austrian Gallacia, having a population of 10,000, was totally destroyed by fire Sunday. One hundred persons were killed by falling walls.

Miss Louisa Mann, of Plainfield, N. J., after being totally blind for twenty-two years, suddenly regained her sight last week. She ascribes her cure to faith.

Two brothers named Weaver, who murdered a man named Shearer, at Danville, Kansas, several weeks ago, were taken out of the jail at Anthony, the county seat of Harper county, Monday morning by a mob, and shot dead.

After the first of May, the toll over the pooled cable lines will be but 30 per cent of the present rate, from all points east of the Mississippi river to Great Britain, France, or Germany, leaving the rate 12 cents per word, which will be quite reasonable. In cable messages, the address and signature count.

United States Senator Justin S. Morrill, of Vermont, who celebrated his 76th birthday on Wednesday of last week, is the oldest in years of any man in congress, has been there longer consecutively than any member, having first entered the house in 1855, and is surpassed by continuous service in the senate only by Mr. Edmunds, who took his seat one year earlier. John Sherman entered the house with Mr. Morrill, and the only present member who ante-dated them is the venerable Mr. Singleton, of Mississippi.

A careful appraisement of the damage of property by the cyclone at St. Cloud makes the total $86,000. At Sauk Rapids there were 100 buildings destroyed with their contents, worth $200,000. Up to noon Monday nearly $50,000 had been contributed by Minnesota towns for the relief of the sufferers. There were three more deaths making a total of seventy seven. Not more than one or two others are expected to die. The work of rebuilding Sauk Rapids is progressing fast.

The high esteem in which Senator Sawyer is held by his brother senators without regard to party, is very gratifying to the people of Wisconsin. His sturdy good sense and rugged honesty make his opinions much sought for and relied upon on all questions relating to the material interests and progress of the country. Of course, when it comes to strictly political questions each senator acts with his party—but aside from this no man in the senate has more friends or wields a greater influence than Senator Sawyer. Wisconsin is justly proud of its senators.

From a recent report prepared by the civil service commissioner, it appears that, exclusive of the army and navy appointments, there are in round numbers 110,000 people employed by the United States government, of which 52,632 are postmasters. The total number of employes who are subject to the civil service examination, is about 15,000, of which 6,000 are in the executive departments at Washington, 6,000 in the postal service in different cities throughout the country, and 3,000 in the custom service. It will be seen by this that the civil service law does not cover more than one-seventh of the government employes. Of the total number of officials, 4,033 require the advice and consent of the senate for appointment. Of these 803 are under the state department, 368 under the treasury, 364 under the interior, 2,252 under the postoffice, and 261 under the department of justice. President Cleveland has already nominated about one-half of those that are subject to confirmation by the senate.

Senator Sewell, for the senate committee on pensions, has made a report on rates for soldiers who suffered amputation that contains striking figures. Under the law of 1865 all amputations were pensionable at $15 a month. In 1872 the rate was raised to $18. In 1874 amputation above the elbow or knee or at the hip joint was made pensionable at $24. In 1879 amputation at the hip joint was made pensionable at $37.50. In 1883 amputation below the knee or elbow was rated at $24, and above the elbow or knee at $30, and amputation at the shoulder joint, like that at the hip joint, was rated at $37.50. The present rate is $21 below the elbow or knee, $30 above the elbow or knee and $37.50 at the hip or shoulder. The bill before the committee proposed to make the rate $35 for an amputation below the elbow or knee and $50 for amputation above the elbow or knee, if the stump were useless, amputation at the joint being included in this latter class. The pension committee of the Grand Army of the Republic asked for a rate of $30 below the knee or elbow, $40 above or so near the joint as to make the stump useless, and $50 for amputation at the joint or so near it as to make the stump useless. The committee recommends making the rate for amputation below the knee or elbow at $30, above those joints $36, and at the hip or shoulder $45. The commissioner of pensions shows that there are 3,231 cases of amputation above the elbow, 743 below the elbow, 3,067 above the knee, 946 below the knee, and 470 cases of amputation at the hip or shoulder. This makes a total of 8,427 persons now receiving $2,954,212, and the recommendations of the committee would add $615,204 annually to this sum.

NO POINTING WITH PRIDE.

The Indianapolis Times reminds the democratic party that "the winter has past, and summer, with congressional and state elections will soon be at hand. The old material for the consecration of democratic platforms is worthless, for you cannot denounce 'the infamous conduct of the administration,' because, you see, you are the administration yourselves just now. The republicans had a handy formula when they were the administration; they used to begin thus: 'We point with pride', and then they used to go on and exhibit the things they pointed with pride to. But, as an administration, you democrats can not point with pride too much. To be sure, you could say, "in accordance with the promises which we made to the people in 1884, we have opened the books, and we point with pride to the fact that they testify to the honesty, intelligence and economy of the republican administrations of the last twenty-four years." You could say this with much truth, but, as democrats in convention assembled, you will hardly be likely to say it. And, really, there is nothing else in your acts and history that you can point with pride to.

The greatest foe of American people is consumption; its victims number many thousands each year. Physicians and druggists have at last found a remedy which they feel justified in recommending. This is Dr. Bigelow's Positive cure, which cures consumption in stages that other remedies are of no benefit. It cures cough, colds and throat and lung diseases speedily and safely. price 50 cents and $1.

Emerald Grove

—Farmers in this locality are busy plowing and seeding. There will be a larger acreage of wheat sown this year than there was a year ago. Grass is growing finely and the season is fully ten days in advance of last year.

—W. D. Hastings spent last week in Janesville with his wife, and son Clesson, who had just returned from Indianapolis, Ind.

—J. A. Jones has placed in his meat market a large cooling apparatus which when filled with ice will keep meat in the best of shape for several days.

—Chas. Bolding, of Shopiere, purchased last week about fifty chickens of the light Brahma order from Will A. Dean. As they were pure bred they no doubt brought a fancy price.

—With prospects of better roads and finer weather, our mail carrier, Andrew Stoker, smiles, and happiness returns once more to his face. One thing is evident, and that is "Andy" can't be beat for a mail driver when the roads are bad and "Sam" ain't too busy.

—J. S. Dean has opened barber parlors over the meat market. As Jim is a tonsorial artist of the high order, he will receive a large patronage.

—Hastings pays 11 cents for fresh eggs.

—The funeral services of Mr. James Phillips took place on Wednesday last in the Congregational church and were conducted by Rev. D. B. Jackson, Rev. J. B. Beadle assisting. A song service was rendered by the choir of the church, and the remains were interred in the Grove cemetery, Mr. Phillips was 85 years and 7 months old and had resided in this place for over forty years.

—On Sunday last another of the old men of Bradford was laid to rest. Mr. Jacob S. Dans. He died on Friday a. m. at the residence of his son, John W. Dans, one mile and a half east of the Grove. He was 81 years and 3 months old. He was a native of Montgomery county, New York, and his home has always been in the Mohawk valley until he came west five years ago. His health was poor all winter and his death was looked for any time within the last month or two. The funeral services were held at the house and were conducted by Rev. D. B. Jackson. An appropriate song service was led by Mr Loren Cheney.

—Two of our young men are wielding the birch in school houses in this vicinity. W. D. McArthur in the school house near his home and W. A. Jackson in the school on the middle road opposite Jas. Beaston's.

THE DERNIER RESORT.

LAKE SHORE OFFICIALS AT CHICAGO, FOILED BY STRIKERS.

Call Upon the Sheriff for the Argument of Force—Report that the Governor Is Going to the Scene.

And That More Troops Have Been Ordered Under Arms—Free Use of the Club in the Streets of New York—Business at St. Louis Moving Right Along—Powderly on Eight Hours.

CHICAGO, April 20.—No freight was moved out of the city Monday by the Lake Shore road. One or two attempts were made to get out trains, but they proved unsuccessful. A deputation of Lake Shore officials called upon the sheriff Monday afternoon and requested that he use his power in thwarting the efforts of the strikers, who, it was said, were preventing the road from operating its trains. Up to a late hour at night the sheriff had not decided what steps he should take in the matter. A notice was sent out from the Lake Shore road to shippers, declining, for the present, to receive any freight for shipment.

LATER.—Dispatches received here state that Governor Oglesby left Springfield at midnight in response to appeals from the Lake Shore Railroad company and Sheriff Hanchett. It is said he is accompanied by Gen. Vance. At a late hour at night the Rodman rifles at Rock Island were ordered under arms by command of the governor. The troops are now at the armory prepared for immediate service. This action is taken in anticipation of trouble in Rock Island and Chicago.

It is probable that the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Rock Island switchmen will go out within forty-eight hours. The purpose of the strikers is indicated by a remark that was made at the Lake Shore yards Monday. A Rock Island switchman informed a crowd of strikers that a non-unionist on his road had received an anonymous letter informing him that he must quit work at once or there would be trouble, and a voice in the crowd said: "Yes, all of 'em get a letter, you bet; and it means business."

Both the railway officials and the men seem determined, and the situation is certainly critical. New men brought to the yards to take the strikers' places, are surrounded by strikers, and by some means or other led away from work, except in very few instances. The railway men say that the time to fight this intolerance has come and they will not submit to the demands of the men.

KNIGHTS OF THE CLUB

Prove a Little too Robust for Knights of Labor—Gotham Turbulence.

NEW YORK, April 20.—At 4 o'clock Monday afternoon President Lyons, of the Third Avenue road, decided to run as many cars as possible from the depot at Sixty-fifth street. A large force of police was sent from the central office to protect the cars on their way down town. The first car had scarcely proceeded two blocks from the depot when it was surrounded by a crowd of men and women. Near Sixtieth street two men ran from the sidewalk and attempted to cut the traces. The police in charge of the car knocked the men down with their clubs, and another section dispersed the crowd on the sidewalk. When the second car came from the depot it was also attacked by a crowd of 200 men. After a lively skirmish the police succeeded in driving the rioters off. Near Fifty-ninth street the car was again attacked with bricks and stones. Capt. Steers, who was in charge, ordered the police to drive the crowd away. Again the clubs were vigorously used. The crowd fled, leaving the police masters of the position, and the cars proceeded on their way down town without further trouble. Between twenty and thirty of the rioters were badly clubbed about the head and two policemen were seriously injured by bricks and stones. Seven of the rioters were arrested and locked up in the Fifty-ninth street police station.

The state board of railroad commissioners remained in session until 7 o'clock in the evening, when they adjourned without rendering a decision in the matter of the strike. During the afternoon several witnesses were examined for both sides. About an hour before the close of the session an offer was made by counsel for the strikers to submit the propositions of both the company and the strikers to arbitration. This was declined by counsel for the company unless certain points as to employment and discharge of employes be agreed to in advance of the arbitration.

The executive board of the Empire association would not agree to this, and the matter will now have to be settled by the board of railroad commissioners.

LATEST.—The leaders of the strikers having become convinced that the other lines were not backing up the Third avenue people, have declared the strike off on all but the latter line and the cars are running again.

PEACE OUGHT TO REIGN,

For Both Sides Are Reported Happy at St. Louis—Business Looking Up.

ST. LOUIS, April 20.—Both parties are seemingly content with the situation, therefore the strike presents no changes. The final failure of the citizens committee to get a hearing from the resident directors of the Missouri Pacific occurred Monday, whereat there is some indignation. Mr. Hoxie, however, publishes daily reports that the road is doing a greater business than ever before, and smiles at all attempts at arbitration.

The Little rolling mills started up Monday morning in all the departments. The mills have been closed down for three weeks or more on account of the inability to procure coal. Four hundred and twenty-five men went to work.

At the stock yards business is becoming livelier each day. Before 1 o'clock Monday morning thirty-four cars of cattle and twenty-five cars of hogs were received.

The Wabash yards in north St. Louis present the same features that have been prominent for the past week. The new crew of men are actively at work, and business goes on as if there had been no break by the old men leaving.

An order, it is said, has been issued by Superintendent Talmage which means that none of the men who are "out" shall be taken back under any circumstances.

LABOR MEETING AT WASHINGTON.

Sundry Statesmen Assure the Laborer of Their Friendship.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A labor mass meeting was held in Armory Hall Monday night. The hall was filled, many ladies occupying the front seats. Representatives Farquahar, Swinburn and Foran were the only congressmen on the platform. Congressman Farquahar, of New York, presided, and in his opening remarks advocated shorter hours of labor and predicted that the American workingmen would hereafter settle his difficulties with the ballot.

T. M. Fogg, a prominent Knight of Labor, said corporations had run the government long enough. Tom Scott, Wm. H. Vanderbilt and Jay Gould had taught workingmen communism, agrarianism, socialism, organization and defense, and "by the eternal living God they would profit by that teaching." Fogg wanted to abolish all tariff laws, turn every custom house into an asylum for tramps and protect American industry by reducing the cost of capital. Capital was high, transported labor low.

Senator Voorhees said the danger to liberty was from the capitalists, and that though he (Voorhees) might not talk much to workingmen, he would always vote right. Congressman O'Hara said the workingmen were engaged in "freeing the country from the last vestige of slavery, while Murphy of Iowa, put in a good word for Hennepin canal.

Resolutions were adopted indorsing Mr. Powderly's course, and calling upon all anti-monopolists to help the strike sufferers. Mr. Powderly was expected at the meeting, but did not arrive.

TOO PREVIOUS ABOUT IT.

The Eight-Hour Movement Begun Too Soon, Says Mr. Powderly.

SCRANTON, Pa., April 20.—General Master Workman Powderly went to Washington Monday afternoon to testify before the congressional committee appointed to investigate the cause of the Southwestern strike. He stated emphatically that no demonstration would be made by authority of the Knights of Labor in favor of the eight-hour movement on the 1st of May, and said the country is not yet prepared for such a change. He is in favor of lessening the hours of labor, but is opposed to hasty action, and says there must be a full discussion of the subject and a complete understanding of it in all the bearings by employer and employed before any steps are taken to introduce such a system. The interest of manufacturers, contractors and workmen must be thoroughly considered in framing such a programme, and there is not sufficient time to do this before the first of next month.

Legislation Against Boycotting.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 20.—A bill introduced in the Ohio legislature Monday by T. C. Williams, of Noble county, is entitled, "A bill to punish boycotters and to prevent union strikers from interfering with scabs by making such conduct a felony." It will be opposed fiercely by the committe on labor, to which the labor advocates will attempt to refer it; but the conservative element in the house is in favor of some measure, and will endeavor to refer it to the judiciary, where it will not be fanatically opposed or buried. As the session is nearing its close, there is some doubt of its passage.

New Orleans Has a Touch of It.

NEW ORLEANS, April 20.—The boys of the McDonagh school No. 4 struck for longer hours for play and less for study Monday. When the bell rang for school several declined to enter, but after threats from the police officers of imprisonment, they accepted the alternative of long school hours. McDonagh No. 5 (colored boys) had the same experience. The appearance of an officer caused them to return to school.

Men Out of Employment.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., April 20.—The local Knights of Labor have boycotted the Linwood mills, Briggsville, and the forty workmen employed therin have struck against the alleged discharge of knights, and for the adoption of the Blackington scale and a regular pay day.

In a Fuck of Trouble.

NEWARK, N. J., April 20.—The Domestic Sewing Machine factory closed Monday owing to an overplus of manufactured stock. Eight hundred men are thrown out.

ALL DOUBT DISPELLED.

A Contest As to Who First Spread the News.

BUFFALO, April 20.—Whatever doubt existed about the rumored forthcoming marriage of Miss Frankie Folsom to President Cleveland must now be banished. It is not only the talk of the best people of the city, but there is now a disposition on the part of some to claim the credit of being the first to spread the news. It is believed that the fortunate one in this respect is none other than Mrs. Wellington, of Troy, wife of Assitant United States District Attorney Wellington. She is a cousin of Gen. H. Barret Rich, and was formerly Miss Townsend. When asked about the matter Gen. Rice said: "Whether Mrs. Wellington has received any such letter I can not say, but I will state to you that the report of Mr. Cleveland's impending marriage is true. A lady friend of my wife, I prefer not to mention her name, but she is a close friend of Miss Folsom and is in almost constant correspondence with her, has received a letter from Miss Folsom, in which she states that she is to be married to Mr. Cleveland at the White House in June."

Frankie's Comin' O'er the Sea.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The Commercial Advertiser states that Miss Frances S. Folsom with her mother and brother have taken passage for America and will sail on May 18.

Loss by the Minnesota Cyclone.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 20.—A careful appraisement of the damage of property by the cyclone at St. Cloud makes the total $86,000. At Sauk Rapids there were 100 buildings destroyed with their contents, worth $200,000. Up to noon Monday nearly $50,000 had been contributed by Minnesota towns for the relief of the sufferers. There were three more deaths Sunday, making a total of seventy-seven. Not more than one or two others are expected to die. The work of rebuilding Sauk Rapids is progressing fast.

Tammany Election.

The high salaries on the London news paper press, excepting The Times, are paid to special correspondents. It is well known that G. A. Sala received "the pay of an ambassador" from The Daily Telegraph for years. And Mr. Archibald Forbes must have got at least $10,000 a year from The Daily News.—Chicago Herald.

Nomination of Grant as General.

Andrew Johnson's nomination of Ulysses S. Grant to be general of the army was written by a clerk on an ordinary sheet of legal-cap paper, with a blank space in which Grant's name was written by Johnson himself.—Exchange.

"I have been handling your preparation, Athlophoros—for some time, and it has given satisfaction to those that use it for neuralgia and rheumatism. I personally recommend it," is the testimonial of druggist J. B. Matthews, of Gregory, Mich.

GARLAND'S TESTIMONY BEFORE THE PAN ELECTRIC COMMITTEE.

His Connection with Telephones Entirely Harmless—Where He Went in His Vacation and Why—The President and the Tariff—Congressional Record.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 20.—Attorney General Garland appeared before the Pan-Electric committee Monday and narrated his connection with the telephone company. He had gone into the matter to make money, and could not see any more impropriety in himself owning stock in a corporation than any other person connected with the government, and many such were interested in various enterprises. He had refused from the start to have anything to do with the bringing of a suit against the Bell company or discussing or considering it in any way. He just declined to hear about the matter at all. Witness was very careful in giving his testimony to express no opinion as to the merits of the suit which has been ordered.

Upon cross-examination by Mr. Ramsey, the attorney general stated that he acted as attorney for the Pan-Electric company to the extent of examining, and, in some instances, making papers and documents. He often met gentlemen connected with the Pan-Electric company in his committee-room of the senate, but there never was a meeting of the committee held in his room. Mr. Garland reiterated with some emphasis that he had refused to converse upon matters relating to suits against the Bell company since he assumed the duties of his present office.

Referring to the application for a suit by Mr. Van Benthuysen against the Bell company, Mr. Garland said he did not refer the matter to Solicitor General Goode, nor did he refer any of the parties who made verbal application or inquiry for a government suit.

"When you found yourself disabled in this matter was it not your duty to refer applicants to Mr. Goode," inquired Mr. Ramsey.

"No I don't think so," replied Mr. Garland. "It was not my duty I think to instruct the parties how to proceed." Speaking of the displeasure the applicants evinced when refused information, Mr. Garland said: "I was between two fires. In the position of Lorenzo Dow's man: I would be damned if I did and be damned if I didn't." Mr. Garland explained that he refused to act upon Van Benthuysen's letter because he asked for a suit under a law which he claimed was recently enacted by congress, but which had not in fact been enacted. Mr. Garland examined the law and found he had no authority for bringing suit.

Mr. Ramsey created a ripple of laughter in the committee room by a reference to the vacation taken by witness on July 27 last. He asked Mr. Garland how long it was before he left on his vacation that he had concluded to go away.

"Six weeks before I took my vacation," was the reply.

"It was well known before you left—known during that six weeks—that you were going away?" "Yes sir."

"It was published by the newspapers?" "Believe so."

"Talked of in the cabinet?" "Not at a cabinet meeting, but I spoke individually of it to members of the cabinet."

"Well," continued Mr. Ramsey cautiously, "pardon me for alluding to cabinet secrets, but had it not been given out about that time that the cabinet officers were so hard worked they would take no vacations?"

Mr. Garland permitted a smile to wreathe his mouth before he replied. "Yes—yes: but we found we were so hard worked it was necessary to take vacations."

And then there was a titter in the committee-room and half-suppressed laughter by members of the committee, after which Mr. Garland added: "I hied away to that classic spot, Hominy Hill, in Arkansas."

In the course of the examination Mr. Ramsey apologetically remarked that he didn't intend to say anything offensive or insulting. "Oh," said the attorney general, "I don't care for it; I'm not here to get insulted or take offense."

Mr. Garland settled one point which has been discussed by the press recently, when he said that he got his stock in the Pan-Electric company a year ago this April at the hands of Gen. Johnston, and he had it yet. He had not disposed of it, as had been reported.

POINTS FROM THE RECORD.

Most Interesting Business Transacted by Congress.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 20.—A memorial was laid before the senate Monday from the United Labor League of America, accompanied by resolutions of thanks to Gladstone for his Irish relief measures, asking the senate to pass similar resolutions, referred. After the passage of a bill providing for a fire proof national hall of records and the rearrangement of the membership on a few committees, the senate went into an executive session, and upon reopening the doors, adjourned.

Among the bills introduced at the house were the following: To create a custom's court where revenue questions shall be properly decided; for a canal around the Dalles on the Columbia river in Oregon; of providing $1,670,000, offered as a substitute for the Ends ship railway bill; for a distribution of the proceeds of sales of public lands to the different states and territories for educational purposes; directing that the postmaster general, before July 1 next and every five years thereafter, to make contracts with American ships to carry the mails between this country and ports of Mexico, South America and the Pacific, at a rate not exceeding 50 cents per mile on outward trips. A contest for consideration then took place. Herbert wanted the naval establishment bill made a continuing "special" from the 22d inst., but was beaten. A bill providing for the sale of the Cherokee reservation in Arkansas was passed, and an attempt was made to fix a day for the consideration of public building bills, but defeated. Murphy of Iowa tried to have May 6 set apart for the beginning of the debate on the Hennepin canal bill and failed, and pending action on a motion to suspend the rules and pass a bill requiring the Northern Pacific to pay for surveys of lands granted to it, the house adjourned.

THREW HIMSELF INTO THE BREACH.

The President Said To Be Urging Tariff Legislation—Randall a Rock.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 20.—The Star says: On the occasion of one of Mr. Randall's calls at the White House a day or two ago it is asserted that Mr. Cleveland talked with him on the tariff, expressing the opinion that a revision and reduction of the tariff should be had this session, and suggesting that the Democrats were pledged to such action, and would be expected to fulfill their pledge. He expressed the opinion further, it is stated, that the present bill seemed to be a safe one to pass. The president is said to have talked with other Democratic protectionists, and to have put himself in the breach in support of the ways and means committee.

This has had a very serious effect upon the protectionists in the party, and it is believed by their opponents that their numbers will melt away before the mild influence of the executive opinion. Mr. Randall's attitude can not thus be changed, but it is hoped by the tariff reformers that his following will shrink away. It is estimated that under the most favorable conditions this following will not exceed twenty-two, and that the president can carry away half of these easily.

McKinley of Ohio, says there is no doubt in his mind that the Republicans, with the co-operation of the Randall men, can defeat the Morrison tariff measure.

Selected an Executive Committee.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 20.—A meeting of the Democratic congressional campaign committee was held in the hall of the house of representatives Monday night, at which the following members were selected as an executive committee: Murphy of Iowa, Barnes of Missouri, Spriggs of New York, McMillen of Tennessee, Wilkins of Ohio, Blanchard of Louisiana, Groome of North Carolina, Crains of Texas, and Ford of Indiana. The executive committee will select a permanent chairman and secretary.

A Sot-Back for Hennepin.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 20.—While the house was being plied Monday with propositions fixing days for the discussion of different measures, Murphy of Iowa, endeavored to have a day fixed—May 6—for beginning consideration of the Hennepin canal bill. Dolaite enamel, and Browne of Indiana, and Hatch of Missouri, opposed the motion. It was finally lost—yeas 112, nays 136—not the necessary two-thirds in the affirmative.

Got the Senate's Approval.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 20.—The senate has confirmed L. Jennings, of Wisconsin, to be Indian agent at Greenbay, Wis.

The general understanding among senators regarding confirmations is that where no charges are pending against suspended officials, those nominated to succeed them shall be confirmed where there is nothing against the character or qualifications of the nominee.

Party Lines Too Tightly Drawn.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 20.—When the majority and minority reports in the Campbell-Weaver contested election case from the Sixth district of Iowa are submitted to the house (the party lines are neatly drawn in the case), it is understood that the contestee will not insist upon consideration.

Consul Recognized.

WASHINGTON CITY, April 20.—The president has recognized Henri Leon Vorleye as consul of France at Chicago.

MONTREAL'S DELUGE.

THE CITY INUNDATED BEYOND ALL FORMER EXPERIENCES.

Sorrowful Sights Seen by a Reporter—Dead Unburied Because Coffins Are Not To Be Had—The Loss Estimated at $5,000,000, and Even $10,000,000.

MONTREAL, April 20.—The flood appears to be abating, but very slowly, and the city presents a watery appearance from Mount Royal away to the southwest across the river. The village of La Prairie is seen apparently surrounded by water. All down the south shore of the river to St. Lambert the ice is piled up to the very doors of houses facing the river. On this side of the river the scene is quite as desolate. From the very foot of the rapids down to the Hochlaga the river seems to be over its banks. All Point St. Charles appears to be under water. Every street in the lower part of the city running parallel with the line of vision is a canal. The river is clear of ice from a short distance above the bridge clear away west to the rapids, but from the bridge east till the river is lost sight of, some miles down, there is a complete block of ice. The loss to merchants in the storehouses and warehouses in the city can not be estimated.

The present flood is thirty-one inches higher than that of 1861. The water remains at forty-seven feet nine inches above low water mark, and is running through the streets like a mill race. The damage will not fall short of $6,000,000, and by some is estimated as high as $10,000,000.

There are not less than 6,000 houses submerged, mostly in Griffintown and Point St. Charles. There is a great amount of suffering. Every effort has been made to alleviate the distress. Five thousand loaves of bread, 2,000 packages of tea, 300 barrels of sugar, and 1,000 bushels of potatoes have been distributed in police boats.

A reporter who traversed the submerged district, Monday, found great distress. In some houses families of twenty people were found living in attics, while all their provisions and furniture were floating about in seven feet of water in the lower rooms. In eight houses visited persons were found dead with no clothes in which to lay them out and no way of securing coffins.

The whole surface of the flooded district, which includes the business streets, resembles a large lake covered with boats of every description, rafts improvised from floating pieces of sidewalk, boxes, barrels and cordwood.

A SOUTHERN TORNADO.

Rutherford County, N. C., Suffers Heavy Damages.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 20.—A tornado swept over a portion of Rutherford county Monday. It struck near Island ford, on Broad river, in the southwestern part of the county, and traveled with the river for miles in a northwesterly direction. Dwelling houses, barns, stables, fences, sheds, etc., were swept away, large trees were torn up by the roots, and the wake of the storm for miles presented a scene of devastation and ruin. A number of horses and other stock were killed. Many persons were injured, but none were killed. In the house of Mr. Scoggins two little children escaped death in a remarkable manner. The house was built of logs, and the children were asleep. The roof gave way, and heavy timbers fell on the bed where the children were lying. The bedstead was an old-fashioned one, and was very strong, preventing the children from being killed. The aggregate loss is very great.

Germany's Exports to This Country.

BERLIN, April 20.—The exports from Germany to the United States during the first quarter of 1886 amount in value to $2,625,000 more than for the corresponding period of 1885, despite the discouragement of the government to the exportation of certain products.

The Father of Krupp Guns.

BERLIN, April 20.—The heaviest Krupp gun ever made, weighing seventy tons, more than thirty feet long, and throwing a shell of 784 pounds weight, has just been mounted at Wilhelmshaven.

Unnecessary Violence.

For which outraged nature exacts heavy penalties, is done to the bowels by persons who with drastic, drenching purgatives make war on those organs in order to relieve their constriction. Constipation is not one of those desperate diseases that require desperate remedies. In fact, it is not a disease at all, but the incomplete discharge of a function, to the healthful renewal of which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is far better adapted than drugs, whose action is excessive and consequently debilitating and injurious. Disorder of the liver, contamination of the blood with bilesick headache and dyspeptic symptoms are the attendants of costiveness, and are likewise remedied by the Bitters. Its action is not limited to relieving the bowels naturally and without pain. Used with persistence and as directed, it perpetuates regularity in the habit of body, and in the operations of the digestive organs and liver. Fever and ague, rheumatism and kidney troubles are prevented and cured by it.

QUESTIONS.

We question of the silence vast,
Of souls that people distant spheres;
What of their future and their past?
Have they our sorrows, joys and fears?
Do the same flowers make glad their sights?
The same birds sing? On their great seas
Do ships like ours, with canvas white,
Move stately, answering the breeze?

Have they their Christ, their Christmas Day?
Know they Mahomet? Buddha? One,
Or all or none? And do they pray?
And have they wrought as we have done?
We can not guess—'t is hard indeed,
Our own orb's tale of its dim past
Through centuries untold to read,
And who its future shall forecast?

We know the hand that holds in check
The whirling worlds, cash in its course,
And saves the universe from wreck
And peril—this tremendous Force
Holds likewise all our little lives:—
The suns and stars do all obey
His bidding—never planet strives
To swerve from its appointed way.

The dangerous boon alone to us
Is given to choose 'twixt ill and well,
Rebellion or obedience—thus
To build our heaven or dig our hell.
But our great thought our strength upholds;
Nothing shall perish! Though His rod
Smites sore, His mercy still enfolds
His own—God's souls are safe with God.

LEADING THEM INTO TEMPTATION.

How a Detroit Merchant Tests the Honesty of His Customers.

"That's the tenth one this forenoon," said a Woodward avenue floor-walker the other day, as a woman hurriedly passed out.

"What—tenth woman?"

"No: tenth portemonnaie."

"What do you mean?"

"Well, this house bought a job lot of portemonnaies last spring, and we got 'em so cheap that we could almost give them away. A few days ago I took it into my head to see how many of our customers were honest, and I stuffed a portemonnaie with paper and left it on the silk counter. It was slyly pocketed by the first lady who discovered it, and she is the wife of a man worth $50,000."

"And the next?"

"Well, we lose an average of twenty portemonnaies a day. That means we have twenty ladies come in here who are thieves, for it is theft to gobble up lost or mislaid property without saying anything about it."

"It must be interesting to watch 'em?"

"It is. Now and then a woman will observe the article and hand it over to the clerk, but that is an exception. I have seen a woman work for half an hour to get the portemonnaie in her pocket or shopping-bag. But that isn't where the fun comes in."

"Where is it?"

"Why, on a slip of paper stuffed into the little wallet I write: 'Stolen from the counter of —— & Co.' At least one-half the wallets are returned. There comes a lady now."

She was a well-dressed and respectable looking lady. She had a portemonnaie in her hand and a smile on her face, and as she came near she sweetly said:

"Beg pardon, but in trading here this morning I accidentally picked up this purse in some way. I presume it contains money. I have not even opened it. Please tell the loser that it was all a mistake, and I am sorry if I put her to any trouble."

"Very well, ma'am."

"That was well done," said the reporter.

"Yes, fairly well, but it's story they all tell. She opened the portemonnaie, saw the put-up job, and tries to play off innocent in returning it. We are all honest, you know, but nevertheless a lost wallet will tempt human nature sooner than any other bait I know of."—Detroit Free Press.

Had Something to Live for.

A prominent citizen of southeastern Dakota was, among others, injured in a railroad accident. While awaiting the arrival of physicians the Dakotan grew very weak from loss of blood.

"I'm getting terribly weak—don't believe I can stand it much longer," he said.

"It won't be long now, try and bear up," said a friend who was with him.

"But—I—I—can't—I know I'm just about gone."

"Oh, no you aren't—they'll soon be here, just make up your mind that you're all right."

"I can't, I know I can't stand it any longer."

"Hold on, don't talk that way—remember your wife and children, you know—"

"Oh—yes—t-t-tell 'em good-bye," and his head sunk down.

"But, say, Bill, try and hold out a little longer, you know that I lay horse of yours?"

"Hey?" demanded the dying man.

"That big bay horse—I believe I can give you a good trade for him—mate for your sor'l."

"Match my sor'l mare! Well, if you can do that I believe I can hold out a little longer."—Estelline (D. T.) Bell.

Turning the Tables on Them.

Mr. F. W. Bennett, of Prelighsburg, Canada, seeks to turn the tables on his critics in this way: "During my late sickness I was doctored thirty-one days for measles, and before it was discovered that I had the small-pox the disease was scattered in different places. Now they blame me for this, because some of the people that called caught the small-pox and died. They say it was because I was not vaccinated, but it is a poor rule that won't work both ways, and if those that died had been vaccinated they would not have caught the disease."—Chicago Tribune.

The Work of the Orchestra.

An old orchestra leader says an old theatre orchestra seldom gets full credit for the quality of its work. People complain if the music is not such as suits their individual tastes, but the leader must have regard to the entire audience and not to single members of it. For this reason his selections are required to take a wide range, so that he may have something suited to every taste. Yet, however perfectly a piece may be performed, if the music does not please the listener, he visits his dissatisfaction upon the orchestra.—Chicago Journal.

When Henry Watterson reads he uses a magnifying-glass. When he works he takes off his coat and goes at it with a vim. He is a bundle of activity. He thinks fast, goes on the trot, and stops hard. He has fits of laziness, in which he cusses writing.—Frank Leslie's.

A QUESTION ABOUT

Brown's Iron Bitters

ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times, "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything?" Well, it does not. But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe IRON. Physicians recognize Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemical firm will substantiate the assertion that there is no better preparation of Iron than of any other substance used in medicine. This shows conclusively that Iron is acknowledged to be the most important factor in general medical practice. It is, however, a remarkable fact, that prior to the discovery of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfectly satisfactory iron combination had ever been found.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will cure tooth, canon headache, or produce constipation—all other iron medicines do. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures Indigestion, Biliousness, Weakness, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, Tired Feeling, General Debility, Pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, Headache and Neuralgia—for all these ailments Iron is prescribed daily.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS however does not injure, it only invigorates. Like all other thorough medicines, it acts slowly. When taken by men the first symptom of benefit is increased energy. The muscles then become firmer, the digestion improves, the bowels are active. In women the effect is similar, but more rapid and marked. The glow begins at once to brighten the skin clears up, healthy color comes to the cheeks, nervousness disappears, functional derangements become regular, and if a nursing mother, abundant sustenance is supplied for the child. Remember Brown's Iron Bitters is sold ONLY in medicine that is not injurious. Physicians and Druggists recommend it.

WHEN DOES OLD AGE BEGIN?

When does old age begin? At forty-five, it is said, the amount of combustion which keeps the furnace of the human body in blast commences to decrease and diminishes until three-score years and ten, more or less, when the fires are drawn and the flickering flame dies out. That is the physiological way of looking at it. But some men are old before they are out of their teens, while others apparently never grow old, though they live to be centenarians. The poet's way of looking at it is the best:

"Call him not old whose visionary brain
Holds o'er the past its undivided reign.
For him in vain the envious seasons roll
Who bears eternal summer in his soul."

This at least seems to be the way in which David Littell, of Sumner, Ia., looks at life, for though now in his eightieth year he has taken a new lease on life and is apparently determined to hold on to it. Athlophoros did it for him and he acknowledges his debt to it in terms of enthusiasm. Mr. Littell tells his own story:

"I was past seventy-seven and had been afflicted with rheumatism three years and eight months. I had lost one-third of my weight and could not walk, but shuffled along with crutches. Sleep had deserted me, my nerves were all shattered, and there was no strength in my hands, wrists, knees or feet. I could not sit down or get up out of a chair without help, and oh! such pain, worse at night than in the day. There was neither sleep nor rest, and the outlook was painful in the extreme.

"But thanks be to God and Brother Inskip for sending me a paper containing a notice of the cures made by Athlophoros and thanks be to you for sending me a bottle. It appears to me the hand of God is in it all the way, and if you did not hear me shout why then I did not shout loud enough, that is all. The medicine arrived one Saturday night after I had gone to bed. In the morning my son prepared me a dose of two teaspoonfuls in milk. I took it and felt it at once all over. After that I took but one teaspoonful at a time until I had finished the bottle. How did it act? Why, like a charm. On Monday morning I rose, dressed, and walked out into the kitchen without crutches or cane and wished them all a happy New Year.

"My pain is all gone and I rest well. My son, seeing such a great change in me, wrote for ten bottles in order, as he says, to make a permanent cure of it. It is all more like a dream than reality. I have written to four of my friends who are afflicted with rheumatism about the great medicine and I shall write to others, and in this way try to pay the debt of gratitude.

"Some fourteen months ago," says A. Hayward, of Burlington, Ia., "I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism. I tried a dozen different kinds of medicine said to cure rheumatism, but to no purpose. Finally, I procured a bottle of Athlophoros. After using the bottle it did me so much good that I bought another, but did not have to use more than a third of the second bottle before I was entirely cured. From that time up to the present I have never had anything like rheumatic pains, and I thank Athlophoros for the cure."

Thomas McCue, Bush's block, Dubuque, Ia., whose wife was cured by Athlophoros of a terrible case of rheumatism, declares it was "truly a miracle in my wife's case."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO., 112 Wall Street, New York

AGAIN THE MOB TRIUMPHS

A MOST ATROCIOUS PIECE OF BUSINESS IN KANSAS.

Three "Bad" Men Hanged and Shot to Pieces in Their Mother's Presence—"Vigorous Efforts to Discover" Etc., of Course—A Column of Criminalities.

WELLINGTON, Kan., April 20.—News of one of the most horrible examples of mob vengeance in criminal annals reached here Monday from Anthony, the county seat of Harper county, thirty-five miles west of here. The victims of Judge Lynch's summary decrees were three brothers named Weaver, who on the 2d day of February last had dangerously wounded an inoffensive man—one Dell Shearer—upon whom they had forced a quarrel and left for dead on the sidewalk of Danville, a small town in the northeast corner of the county. The Weavers were notorious bullies and troublesome characters generally, and the county sheriff who took them into custody had an infuriated mob upon his track for several days. Finally eluding them, he brought his prisoners to this city, but threats of a midnight attack upon the jail caused their removal to the eastern part of the state. The man Shearer, instead of dying as the doctors predicted, has partially recovered, and last week it was deemed safe to take the Weavers back to Anthony to stand trial. The county having no jail, the prisoners were guarded by the sheriff in his own residence.

About 2 o'clock Monday morning he was awakened by a mob numbering forty or fifty men with painted or blackened faces, who surrounded the house, and the Weavers were given in charge of a deputy, who hurried them out of the back door toward a partially-completed school house a block distant, hoping to find concealment there. Their flight was noted by the vigilant mob, who with wild yells followed in pursuit. The party took refuge in a cellar amid a shower of bullets which, however, did not harm them. The deputy seeing the hopelessness of resistance, handed over his revolver to one of the boys and crawled out among the crowd. Then lamps and lanterns were procured at the muzzles of shooters from neighboring houses, and the lynchers descended to the cellar in search of their prey. Two of the boys were found, a rope thrown around their necks and passed over a joist, and they were hauled up to be made the target for a score of revolvers.

All this took place in sight of their mother, who had heard the attack on the sheriff's house, and with agonized cries had rushed into the crowd to plead for the lives of her sons. Her wailings fell on pitiless ears and the murderous work went on. The third boy, who had secreted himself behind a pile of rubbish in a far corner, defended himself with the revolver given by the deputy, wounding two of the avengers before he was laid out by a volley of bullets. With fiendish cruelty the avengers emptied their pistols into his body, and laying it beside the bloody corpses of his brothers took up their wounded, mounted their horses, and rode away, firing a few parting shots to intimidate pursuit. The town is wild with excitement, and vigorous efforts to discover and bring to justice the lynching party are being made. The terrible scenes of the night have unsettled Mrs. Weaver's reason, and the wife of one of the boys is prostrated with the shock. Public opinion unsparingly condemns the lynching as little less than wanton murder, and the lynchers are not likely to go unwhipt of justice.

THE GREASERS MUST GO.

Bloody Fight Between Mexicans and Americans—Several Killed.

EL PASO, Texas, April 20.—Particulars of a bloody fight between Americans and Mexicans, which occurred at Murphyville, on the Southern Pacific railway, have just arrived. The Mexicans have sought to drive the Americans from the town, in consequence of which a bitter race feeling has existed.

On Saturday night about twenty-five Mexicans raided the Cattle Exchange saloon, in which were a number of Americans. The Mexicans opened fire, mortally wounding Ed Milliger. The Americans fled, but returned the fire of the Mexicans while running, and killed Jose Perez and fatally wounded two others.

The news of the raid spread rapidly among the Americans, and they united on clearing the surrounding country of Mexicans. It is believed that a number of Mexicans besides those referred to were killed and wounded.

Hunted Horse-Thieves and Found Them.

GALVESTON, Tex., April 20.—A special from Corpus Christi says: Of late ranchers residing along the Los Alamos creek, forty miles west of here have suffered heavy losses at the hands of horse-thieves. The ranchers started out Friday night in a body. They caught two Mexican horse-thieves and hung them to a tree. The sheriff has left here to investigate the affair and if possible to arrest the lynchers.

THE HOLACUST AT STRY.

Fifty Children Among the Victims of the Catastrophe.

VIENNA, April 20.—The total number of persons who lost their lives by the fire which destroyed the town of Stry, Galicia, is now known to be forty. Nearly all of these are children.

LATER—The number of persons killed is now found to have been 100, of whom fifty were children. A majority of the inhabitants were absent at a fete outside of the town when the fire started. They returned with all possible haste, but before they could reach their homes the fire, fanned by the strong wind, had obtained such headway that the efforts of the people with the appliances at hand were powerless to stay the progress of the flames.

Novel Prize Case Decided by a State Supreme Court.

PHILADELPHIA, April 20.—Some time ago the well-known art patron Joseph E. Temple offered a $3,000 prize for the best picture of a historical sketch of the American revolution. There were four contestants and the jury of awards gave the first place to William T. Tregio, the negro artist. But the jury held that Tregio's picture did not reach the standard of merit which called for the first prize and only gave him a silver medal. The artist took the matter into the courts and Monday the supreme court affirmed the decision of the lower court that Tregio was not entitled to the prize.

A Novel Feature in Investments

The whole country, after having undergone a period of depression is now asking itself, what business has least been affected and uninjured?

Such a business, industry or corporation that can make a better showing now than before the crisis, attracts the attention of capital, merits the confidence of investors, and is being eagerly sought for.

There is such a business, and it has heretofore been monopolized by English and Scotch capital until some three hundred millions have been invested in the Ranche and Cattle business of this great country.

Foremost amongst the strongest, richest and most successful American Companies stand the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York, which is now offering $500,000, First Mortgage six per cent 10-year bonds, for subscription at 90 cash, or at par, upon a novel installment feature which appeals to the farmer as well as the banker, the clerk and mechanic as well as the millionaire, and to all who desire to invest their savings at better rates of interest than any bank will allow.

This company issues certificates of indebtedness in one and five dollars, each representing an installment, and when the investor has purchased $50 of these certificates he becomes entitled to a $100 gold bond, First Mortgage, bearing 6 per cent interest, which he can obtain upon presenting his certificates or forwarding them by letter to the company's office, at 145 Broadway, N. Y.

The remaining $50 due on the bond being payable to the company in monthly installments not exceeding $5.

The bond commences to draw interest on delivery the same as if fully paid. In addition to which the company give as a bonus, free, one fully paid up share of stock of the value of $25.

Those desiring to buy their bonds outright for cash can do so at 10 per cent discount in $100, $500 or $1,000 bonds and receive one, five or ten shares of stock free. The bonds are secured by property owned absolutely by the company, estimated to be worth $3,000,000, and this money received from sale of bonds will be invested in cattle, the income from which it is estimated will yield 30 per cent upon the stock after paying 6 per cent on the bonds.

Applications are being forwarded in great numbers daily, and all those who desire to subscribe should send at once for Prospectuses and full information to the United States Land and Investment Company, 145 Broadway, New York.—The N. Y. Financier.

Insanity is on the increase. Statistics show this. Many cases are brought on by overwork, anxiety, excitement, metal trouble and nervous prostration; it is also inherited. Invariably sleepless and constipation manifest themselves before one becomes insane. Constipation induces dyspepsia, jaundice, bad breath, piles, low spirits, headache, etc. Dr. Jones' Red Clover Tonic relieves constipation, thereby curing these diseases. Price, 50 cents. By druggists.

Prices are such that they command the attention at the great closing out sale at McKey's.

A Little Sufferer

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me great pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the Cuticura Remedies and see the child now, consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.
MRS. E. S. DRIGGS,
May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay St. Bloomington, Ill

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grand-mother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease. MAGGIE HOPPING.

Catharral Dangers.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing, to feel that the system does not through its veins and arteries suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many reMedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

It has been well selected and contains some of the best known minstrel people in the profession, among whom are Billy Lester Frank Bell and Sheppard and Hallam, The O'Brien Bros add much to the show by their difficult acrobatic feats. Shaffer and Blakely are considered the best negro dialect team on the road. Their performance is good. The company contains one of the best quartettes ever heard here. Ald. Croft—An order authorizing the city clerk to draw an order for ten dollars in favor of P. Riley, for extra services as janitor during the past year. Adopted.

Ald. Fathers—That the grade on Division street, south of South First street, as shown on file in the city clerk's office, be adopted as the grade of that street. Adopted. Also, that the city engineer be requested to report a grade for Sinclair street between Court and South Third streets, third ward. Adopted.

Ald. Burnham moved that the amendment to the ordinance to prevent the obstruction of Rock river, mill race or tail race, be given its third reading, and be put upon its passage. Lost, all voting no.

Ald. Croft—That the marshal be instructed to enforce the ordinance relative to merchants cleaning the street in front of their business places on Main and Milwaukee streets once each week. Adopted.

Health Officer Dr. O. P. Robinson was heard in the matter of a city hospital. He had found a desirable location, healthy, and in all respects pleasant sixteen rods from any residence, and ready for occupancy. It could be purchased for $875, together with one and a half acres of land.

On motion of Ald. Daly, Mayor Winans appointed a committee consisting of Alds. Fathers, Croft, McLean, Judd, George, the City Attorney and the health officer, to examine the premises and report at the next meeting of the council.

The city attorney presented an amendment to an ordinance entitled an "ordinance prescribing the fire limits of the city, and the construction of buildings therein," by adding to Section 5 the following words: "And any owner of any building hereafter constructed, who shall allow any building constructed contrary to the provisions of this ordinance, shall be liable to the penalties named in this ordinance for each and every day said building shall be allowed to remain so constructed as to be a violation of this ordinance."

The amendment was given its first and second reading, and laid over under the rules.

The clerk read the journal of proceedings for the evening, the council approving the same.

On motion of Ald. Burnham the council adjourned sine die.

More Warehouses Closing Up for the Season.

Sumatra vs. Domestic Leaf.—Hints to Growers.

Quite a quantity of leaf has been bought during the past week. South of this city the tobacco has been taken up very cleanly, but toward the north there is still much remaining. Some of the farmers are becoming frightened, and are taking whatever is offered, believing that it is now only a choice between losing it entirely or selling at a great sacrifice. The matter is hardly as bad as that for packing will undoubtedly continue as long as there is anything to handle. The one main point to be considered is that during hot weather leaf that is in bundle, can not be assorted without being considerably damaged and it will pay those who expect to hold for any length of time to get their crops into better shape. Prices have ranged about the same as in our last quotations and there is little probability of a rise. The only hope of the crop is in its binders and there is every indication that the market will be fully supplied.

With many dealers the season is drawing to a close. J. O. Metcalf has finished his packing and this week will very probably be the last for L. B. Carle and Rowe & Stevens. Baines & Heddles' warehouse is again running, this time on goods bought by Frank Green. Two cars of new leaf were shipped west by Hibbard, Godden & Erler this week, the lot being composed of goods bought on commission.

FILLERS.

At a test in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, a sample of choice Sumatra tobacco weighing seventeen ounces was put to a practical test, being compared with the same amount of choice domestic Havana. The Sumatra furnished wrappers for four hundred and ninety-one cigars, while the domestic leaf covered four hundred and ninety-three. Put into boxes without distinguishing marks the cigars wrapped with the Pennsylvania leaf, were mistaken by nearly every one for the others, their appearance being much the finest. The seventeen ounces of Sumatra contained two hundred and seventeen leaves, and cost $3.25, while the lot of domestic tobacco contained eighty-three leaves and cost eighty-two cents. This would go to prove that Sumatra is more expensive than domestic goods, for in this case it cost four times as much to wrap a certain number of cigars with Sumatra as it did with domestic goods. The Lancaster New Era in commenting upon the trial says: The experiment proves that choice Havana seed wrappers will cover not only as many cigars, per pound, as Sumatran leaf, but even more. It proves also that in this case, at least, the domestic leaf made the best appearance; at any rate, that is the inference to be drawn from the almost unanimous verdict of those who were called in to judge between them. Having always been told the Sumatran leaf made the handsomest of all cigars, they nearly all went wrong in deciding which was the foreign and which the home grown leaf.

The American Cultivator gives this good advice to farmers who have leaf left on their hands, and to those who packed their own leaf:

Care should be taken where it is packed, as soon as it gets into sweat, to see if the heads of the cases are sufficiently open to allow the free escape of the steam that will be thrown off by the process of fermentation. It is safe and advisable to pry out one of the boards from each head and if the butts are slippery it is well to leave them out until it dries off. If unpacked, we again repeat our advice, not to pack too heavy, particularly if the leaf is fine. A hard sweat will throw some of it to pieces, when water is applied in casing, we fear. Care must be taken to keep it off from the ground.

Have early and vigorous plants, and plenty of them. It is better to have one hundred thousand too many than ten thousand too few. To make sure of them, give personal attention to the selection and preparation of the plant bed.

Early in May replow the land to about the depth of the first plowing, and drag and cross drag, and if need be, drag it again, until the soil is brought to the finest possible tilth.

Plant as early as possible after a continuance of pleasant spring weather is assured. Try to have a forward crop. The benefits claimed for a late one from the fall dews do not compensate for the many advantages resulting from early maturity.

NEW YORK.

A sorry condition of things existed in our market last week; business had come to a standstill almost, and confidence seemed to have gone entirely. An expected new strike, threatening to be general, in city cigar manufacturing circles and the unsettled state of the labor question in the whole cigar industry, combined with the growing dullness in the western jobbing trade, formed one of the darkest clouds that ever hung over our leaf market. Here and there efforts were made, especially by brokers to rouse the market by spreading reports as to large transactions in old Wisconsin and new Pennsylvania but the attempt failed, and at the hour of writing the market is in a most despondent condition.

Sumatra and Havana fared little better than Seed Leaf; the transactions were small, without whim or life. Sellers were consequently more than accommodating in prices.—United States Tobacco Journal.

OHIO.

A fair degree of activity in transactions at first hands prevailed in this market during the week—all varieties figuring, with '84 Zimmer's Spanish in the lead. Prices for the latter ranged from 8 to 10 cents for lots that have thus far been held at 12 to 15 cents, and representing the best growths of '84.—Miamisburg Bulletin.

CONNECTICUT VALLEY.

There is very little doing in the variety by way of selling tobacco. Holders of the '85 crop know very well that they have goods that are fine and ripe, and they are not disposed to sell at figures that have been offered. Where crops have outs, of course, the grower doesn't generally mean to let his opportunity slip, but takes the first fair offer.—American Cultivator.

THE SPECIAL DELIVERY.

A Success in Only Three Cities In the United States.

How It Works in Janesville.

Six months have elapsed since the inauguration of the special delivery service by the post office department and up to date but three cities, Washington, Pittsburg, and New York seem to have made the new system successful. The verdict of the postoffice officials in this city is that the system amounts to very little. The records show that the business has fallen considerably and Post Master Richardson has at times been obliged to pay the messenger from his own pocket because of the insignificant sum allowed by the government. In October, which was the first month of the service, the number of letters received was thirty nine. It was the same in the next month but in December it began to grow smaller and during last month only twenty letters were received.

There is a point which has not been made public as much as it should be, and that is in regard to answering a special communication. When one of the messenger-boys presents a letter of this character, if the receiver desires to send an immediate answer it is only necessary to give the boy 12 cents. He will take the letter, and, after seeing that it is properly stamped, he will deliver it. In other words, it will cost only 24 cents to send a message and receive a reply at any point in the city.

It has been suggested that the public should not be restricted to any specified stamp, but should be allowed to send a letter requiring prompt delivery by prepaying it with 12 cents' worth of any kind of United States postage stamps. Should such a proposition be adopted it would be necessary for the sender to write the words "special delivery" on the envelope under the stamps.

A number of changes in the existing system have been suggested and it is quite probable that some of them will be made. One of them is that the section requiring all special delivery offices to be kept open until midnight, be abolished and that the matter be left in the hands of the postmaster general. It is also purposed that the postmaster shall be personally responsible for the delivery of matter bearing the special delivery stamps and shall receive eighty per cent of the face value of the stamps.

THE MIKADO.

At the Opera House To-Morrow Evening.

The second performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado" was given last evening at the Avenue theatre by the Chicago opera company before a sufficiently large and quite select audience. The theatre is neat and attractive, and the audience, among whom many connoisseurs could be recognized, appeared well pleased with the performance. And certainly it is not for the writer to blame them. Making abstraction of the quality of voices and expertness in the art of song, the tout ensemble was quite entertaining. To sum up, the "Mikado" was intelligently given and conveyed an idea The scenery in both acts is very prettily painted and the mise-en-scene sufficiently good.

Ko-Ko (Lord High Executioner,) Mr. Stanley Felch, is a very good comedian. His face is comical, and his diction good. He gives the role with much humor, and colors it with a tinge of good nature which evidently was intended by the author. Nanki Poo, Mr. Barnes, is a tenor with a good voice; he sings modestly and good humoredly. Mr. Hartman, the Mikado, was deservedly applauded for his gay manner of singing the couplets of the last act.

Let us say that the role of the "three little maids from school" (for it is really a triple role with a sparkling idea in it.) was very well played by Miles. Allie Becktel, Yum Yum; Eloise Willard, Pitti Sing, and Peep Bo, Emme DeCelle. The pretty trio and chorus in the first act was given with much liveliness and gaiety. Miss Becktel gives the role of Yum Yum a color of naivete and gaiety which is appropriate. She has the great quality of giving the score with simplicity. She is a prominent and interesting feature of the performance, and did much for the success of the quintette of the second act, "The Flowers that Bloom in the Spring,", which is, perhaps, the best thing in the piece. Miss Lottie Cruikshank makes the ungrateful role of Katisha interesting to a degree, and was particularly happy, as was also Mr. Felch in the bouffo scene and duet of the second act, "Do You Think you are Sufficiently Decayed?"—New Orleans Times. Secure seats at Prentice & Evenson's.

General B. M. Prentiss.

Major General Prentiss has been secured to give a lecture at the rink under the auspices of W. H. Sargent Post, No. 20, Friday evening, April 30. The people of Janesville will appreciate an opportunity to hear General Prentiss and he will no doubt be greeted with a full house. His subject is "Shiloh". Judge John R. Bennett had the pleasure of hearing the lecture at Baraboo recently and has written the following letter to Mr. R. J. Clemens, Post adjutant of the Post:

JANESVILLE, April 18th, 1886.

R. J. Clemens, Esq,

MY DEAR SIR:—While recently at Baraboo I was privileged with listening to an address by Maj. Gen. B. M. Prentiss, on the battle of "Pittsburg Landing" as called in the north, and of "Shiloh" as termed in the south; and indeed it was a rare treat. In fact, I never listened to a more able, eloquent and deeply interesting address in my life. While Gen. Prentiss is now sixty eight years of age, he is still straight as an arrow and his "eye is not dim, nor his natural force abated". He spoke about two hours, and the interest continued to deepen, and the enthusiasm to arise from the time he uttered his first word, until his last sentence fell upon the audience. This battle has produced more controversy and been more written about than any one fought during the rebellion. And I am satisfied that no living person understands its many details better than he does. It was, I believe, at my suggestion that the Grand Army Post invited him to come to Janesville and I trust that our people will be fully informed of the time of his address.

With sentiments of sincere respect,
I remain most truly yours,
JOHN R. BENNETT.

Froebel's Day.

To-morrow being the festival of Froebel, the founder of the Kindergarten, the little people will receive their friends from 9 to 12 m., at the Sunday school room in the Court Street M. E. church. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The little people have been very happy in the thought that their friends are to enjoy this day with them and they hope to see the faces of their parents and all their friends.

The special object of the day is to fill it with the sunshine of happiness, that the memory of Froebel, the founder of the children's garden, may be ever fresh in the minds of the little ones.

A Bad Neighborhood.

He was of the fairest flowers of Milwaukee society and while visiting in this city won the privilege of escorting a young lady friend of his to a recent polo game. They were passing down River street towards the rink when he happened to cast his eye towards Chrisman's sign that hung across the street. "G-O-D," he read slowly, evidently surprised but trying hard to maintain his languid air. He thought over it a moment and then calling his fair companion's attention to it, he drawled, "Yaas—missionary relief agency, I suppose. But," with a glance at the newspaper offices near by, "Can you infawm me why they located it in such a beastly hard neighborhood?"

When he was informed that the first letter of the sign was "C" instead of "G" he murmured something about, "Yaas, I see;" and relapsed into gloomy silence.
